All My Friends

LCD Soundsystem

That's how it starts We go back to your house We check the charts And start to figure it out

And if it's crowded, all the better Because we know we're gonna be up late But if you're worried about the weather Then you picked the wrong place to stay That's how it starts

And so it starts You switch the engine on We set controls for the heart of the sun One of the ways we show our age

And if the sun comes up, if the sun comes up, if the sun comes up And I still don't wanna stagger home Then it's the memory of our betters That are keeping us on our feet

You spent the first five years trying to get with the plan And the next five years trying to be with your friends again

You're talking 45 turns just as fast as you can Teah, I know it gets tired, but it's better when we pretend

It comes apart The way it does in bad films Except in parts When the moral kicks in

Though when we're running out of the drugs And the conversation's winding away I wouldn't trade one stupid decision For another five years of life

You drop the first ten years just as fast as you can And the next ten people who are trying to be polite When you're blowing eighty-five days in the middle of France Yeah, I know it gets tired only where are your friends tonight?

And to tell the truth Oh, this could be the last time So here we go Like a sales force into the night

And if I made a fool, if I made a fool, if I made a fool On the road, there's always this And if I'm sewn into submission I can still come home to this

And with a face like a dad and a laughable stand You can sleep on the plane or review what you said When you're drunk and the kids leave impossible tasks You think over and over, "hey, I'm finally dead." Oh, if the trip and the plan come apart in your hand Tou look contorted on yourself your ridiculous prop You forgot what you meant when you read what you said And you always knew you were tired, but then Where are your friends tonight?

Where are your friends tonight? Where are your friends tonight?

If I could see all my friends tonight If I could see all my friends tonight If I could see all my friends tonight If I could see all my friends tonight
