

A Thousand Years

Leah

Walking through the door, so unknown
I am afraid, but that won't hold me down
You take my hand, you take my first step too
I won't forget to remember you

All I need to know is you'll never let me go
In a thousand years, you'll still be here

All this confidence, so well-known
My faith is weak, but that won't hold you down
You give me breath, you breathe it for me too
I won't forget to remember you

All I need to know is You'll never let me go
In a thousand years, you'll still be here
