

Doesn't Everybody

LeAnn Rimes

You may have a tabloid life pay for all your friend
You may be a suburban wife with your white picket fence You may be a suit and tie paying off your high rise rent
When it all comes down
When it all comes down baby
When it all comes down to it

Doesn't everybody want the same thing
to be loved
Doesn't everybody want the same thing
why isn't that enough
Doesn't everybody want the same thing

You may be a night shift waitress to send your kid through school You may be a stubborn doctor pushing for the cure
You may be a bitter divorce wandering what he saw in her
When it all comes down
When it all comes down baby
When it all comes down to it

Doesn't everybody want the same thing
to be loved
Doesn't everybody want the same thing
why isn't that enough
Doesn't everybody want the same thing
