

Andy

Leatherface

I had made a friend like I'd never known
Who made me feel like I was a special someone.
He cared like I had never done,
Why o why didn't, didn't I just phone?

And now I'll never know what was wrong,
But there must have been something I could have done.

Andy's smile was a mia child
And his drink was Guinness I think.
Andy's walk amused us all
And he was mystifying.

I didn't really know him that long,
Compared to some a, compared to
A sense of loss like I had never known,
And what was important, I was completely wrong.

And if I could change this world
Then I'd turn it completely upside down.

Andy's smile was a mia child
And his drink was Guinness I think.
Andy's walk amused us all
And he was mystifying.

Andy's mind was a mia child
And he smiled a million miles.
Andy's drink was the Guinness I drink
And he was mystifying.

I'd never known...

Andy's smile was a mia child
And his drink was Guinness I think.
Andy's walk amused us all
And he was mystifying.

And his style was to despair sometimes
Andy's walk amused us all.
Andy's smile was a mia child
He was mystifying.
