

Daylight Comes

Leatherface

Daylight comes, daylight goes,
Daylight's warm, daylight's cold.

There's no need to rush this night, do it with relish,
With as little anguish as you can manage.
Never get above it, don't go ashtray on me now,
Leave out the innuendo, at least create inferno.

Daylight comes, daylight goes,
Daylight's warm, daylight's cold.
Daylight, it's long, daylight's short,
Daylight comes, Daylight goes.

You walk on the side of Elvis and Jesus Christ,
It's not the same as the dream, it's what you want things to be
And don't forget the big remote control controlling your soul,
Are you the party leader? And you just don't need her?

You're fucking bleeding her, fucking bleeding her.
Bleeding her.

Daylight comes, daylight goes,
Daylight, it's warm, daylight's cold.
Daylight, it's long, daylight's short,
Daylight is what that's for, daylight comes.
