

Watching You Sleep

Leatherface

You don't know anything and you don't know what's happening,
And chocolate is like everything, there's no you and me.
That's why I'm all at sea.
And everyone came along, everyone singing songs,
Everyone drank some more and everyone giggled at the bore.
That amount of hindsight makes me blind.

And what's more and I like watching you sleep,
I never knew anyone quite like you I'd like to be.
And I know more than this fishing is more for you.

And there you lie next to me, I'd love to know what you dream
I love to listen to you breathe, I hope you don't watch me.
Because I'd never sleep.
It's all become polarized, look at the sky to tell the time, to idolise through idol eyes.
Well I'm not getting it.

He bought you flowers and I bought you drink,
You can't drink flowers but flowers can drink.
It's a hunger in me,
I never knew there was anything or anyone else you see.
And it's like that key ring, living is more than life.
We're alive, we're alive.

And there you lie next to me, I'd love to know what you dream.
I love to listen to you breathe, I hope you don't watch me
Because I'd never sleep.

He bought you flowers and I bought you drink,
You can't drink flowers but flowers can drink.
And he bought you flowers and I bought you drink,
You can't drink flowers but flowers can drink.
And he bought you flowers and I bought you drink,
You can't drink flowers but flowers can
