

Wing Ding

Leatherface

And you you can stand next to but you never stand by
And you choose who we'll be friends to and expect me by your side
Then I smile at those you don't want me to and I'll fight you if I like
I won't laugh if I don't want to and I don't have to tell you why
I I hear the sound of what's getting you down it's the same
Sound as when a mermaid drowns and I hear the sound I can hear it
There's nothing like tea after a wing ding to make you feel alive
I've seen all of you that I want to big part of my life
Now I want to smile a while and I want to see a lion
And I want to wait a while then I want to see it all it all
And then I hear the sound of an autocratic church
Of a different God crash down I can hear the sound
It's when a mermaid drowns and I heal her
And I want to smile a while and I want to see a lion
And I want to wait a while and I want to see it all
Like tea after a wing ding to make you feel alive
And I've seen all that I want of you big part of my life
And I and I hear the sound of what's getting you down
It's the same sound as when mermaids drown
I hear the sound of an autocratic church
Of a different God crash down I hear the sound
Of a different calling I hear the sound mermaids drown
