

Sadly smile and turn the pages
Realise the darkest age is now
Now that you have gone
Try to scream and only whisper
Deep inside you only want to call
But you just seem to fall

If we could see what tomorrow brings
Forever we'll share a dream
Share a dream
Turn out the light and don't be afraid of the night
I need someone to break my fall
And listen when my spirits call
Share a dream
Still no one hears

I wake alone, you're nowhere near me
Somehow, some way
Dreams all seem too real
The loneliness I feel
My heart is parched, my soul is thirsting
For the cup that your love just won't fill
The loneliness leaves me still

If we could see what tomorrow brings
Forever we'll share a dream
Share a dream
Turn off the light and don't be afraid of the night
I need someone to break my fall
And listen when my spirit calls
Share a dream
Still no one hears

I won't be lonely for ever, ever, ever
'Cause I know that some day we'll be together
I need you to break my fall
I need you, I need you
Let's share a dream
Can this be real?
I want to know

Let's share a dream
Let's share a dream
