

Legend Land
We headed west
To legend land
Up river to
Set feet on soil
Smell morning dew
On stubborn grass
Found grapes and vines
And sweet temptation
Keeps me alive
In my legend land I still feel how close
We are and will be
Somewhere inside me a piece you left
A piece of promise and hope
For you and me
Eternity
Appears to me
From Aasgard sent
Shining through
Any time barrier
Like a wild flower's will
To stay alive
To divide the stone
To break through
My legend land
A piece of promise and hope
My legend land
