Led Zeppelin

Silent woman in the night, you came, Took my seed from my shaki ng frame.

Same old fire, another flame, And the wheel rolls on.

Silent woman through the flames, you come, From the deep behind the sun

Seems my nightmares, have just begun Left me barely holding on.

With blazing eyes you see my trembling hand. When we know the time has come
Lose my senses, lose command
Feel your healing rivers run

Is it every time I fall, That I think this is the one In the darkness can you hear me call Another day has just begun.

Silent woman, my face is changed Some know in ways to come. Feel my fire needs a brand new flame And the wheels rolls on... rolls on.