

Not Forgotten You

Lee Ann Womack

I came home a little early last night shed not a tear when I turned out the light
No I don't hurt like I used to Didn't wait for the knock on my door drawer in the room ain't empty anymore
So many got it tougher than I do

But I have not forgotten
I have not forgotten
I have not forgotten you

Time flies and you just know time to think about lettin' go
Times I even forget to be blue
Big feet to shuffle them sands leave no trail and slip right through your hands
Done every little thing I know to do

But I have not forgotten
I have not forgotten
I have not forgotten you

And I said hail the western bound with it's black tail flying
Lay on the rails and leave me to dream of where your love was mine
Time flies and you just know time to think about lettin' go
Times I even forget to be blue

But I have not forgotten
I have not forgotten
I have not forgotten you

No I have not forgotten
I have not forgotten
I have not forgotten you

Hey I have not forgotten
I have not forgotten
I have not forgotten you
