I came home a little early last night shed not a tear when I tu rned out the light

No I don't hurt like I used to

Didn't wait for the knock on my door drawer in the room ain't e mpty anymore

So many got it tougher than I do

But I have not forgotten I have not forgotten I have not forgotten you

Time flies and you just know time to think about lettin' go Times I even forget to be blue

Big feet to shufle them sands leave no trail and slip right thr ough your hands

Done every little thing I know to do

But I have not forgotten I have not forgotten I have not forgotten you

And I said hail the western bound with it's black tail flying Lay on the rails and leave me to dream of where your love was m ine

Time flies and you just know time to think about lettin' go Times I even forget to be blue

But I have not forgotten I have not forgotten I have not forgotten you

No I have not forgotten
I have not forgotten
I have not forgotten you

Hey I have not forgotten I have not forgotten I have not forgotten you
