

That Way Again

Lee Brice

He used to hold her hand, he used to hold her door.
She don't know what that feels like, anymore.
Just last night he was sleepin',
She kissed his face,
He said "I gotta work in the morning"
And he rolled away.

He used to love her like crazy,
You couldn't pull them apart.
God, she felt so unbelievable in his arms.
But now she's catchin' herself, lookin' down at her ring every now and then.
She don't wanna leave, she just needs him to be that way again.

So this mornin' she had coffee,
With a brand new friend.
She still had ,half a cup left when he asked her, "can i see yo u again".
Well that made her smile,
Like she hadn't smiled in years,
And in just a second,
That smile turned to tears.

"He used to love me like crazy,
You couldn't pull us apart.
God I felt so unbelievable in his arms".
But now shes catchin' herself lookin' down at her ring every no w and then.
She don't wanna leave, she just needs him to be that way again.

She left that little cafe,
She headed straight to her car.
She picked up her phone,
He didn't say hi,
he just said "hey, when you gettin' home?"

She said, "you used to love me like crazy,
You couldn't pull us apart.
God I felt so unbelievable in your arms.
But now I'm catchin' myself lookin' down at my ring every now a nd
then.
I don't wanna leave you, I just need you to be, that way again.
