

I Am A Part

Lee Hazlewood

I am a part of every road you walk down and I am a part of every dream that you found.

And when you cry I'll cry along with you and should you die I know that I'll die too.

I am that part of everything that you do,
since I became a part of you,
since I became a part of you.

I am a part of every hurt and every lie and I am a part of every tear that you cry.

And when you're sad you know that I'm sad too and if you're bad then I'll be bad with you.

I am that part of everything that you do,
since I became a part of you,
since I became a part of you
