Ain't No Short Way Home

Lee Roy Parnell

Monday morning six a.m.

Gonna be a hot one again

Put some coffee in my cup

Get in my Chevy and saddle up

And I roll, roll

Got another thousand miles to go

And I roll, roll

Driving down this old four-lane road

I can taste your kisses, see your face And the faster I go, the longer it takes And this lonely heart is a heavy load And it's slowing me down And there ain't no short way home

Make a stop for gasoline
Ain't got time to wash the window clean
Burning highway, burning tires
Burning oil and burning desire

And I roll, roll

Got another thousand miles to go

And I roll, roll

Driving down this old four-lane road

I can taste your kisses, see your face And the faster I go, the longer it takes And this lonely heart is a heavy load And it's slowing me down And there ain't no short way home

And I roll, roll

Got another thousand miles to go

And I roll, roll

Driving down this old four-lane road

I can taste your kisses, see your face And the faster I go, the longer it takes And this lonely heart is a heavy load And it's slowing me down And there ain't no short way home
