

Choices

Legend

We breathe the seeds of Heaven, yet the scent of Hell is sweet.
We chant of God Immortal, yet we eat the Devil's meat.

We think we have two choices, stay pure and you will see, that when you die it's over, at last you will be free.

Because there are two kingdoms, a Heaven and a Hell.
But fools, you cannot see it, this earth is Satan's well.

when you die it's over, at last you will be free.
