

Bury Me in a Nameless Grave

Legion of the Damned

Proud to march on a path of glory, ready to cross the barbwire Crawling closer to enemy positions under ranking machine gun fire Enter the trenches of the enemy, bent on killing all in sight Thrill of the fight causes exhilaration, despite all the comrades that are lost

Death awaits
Death awaits
On the fields of war

Stalemate on the western front, as hundreds of thousands are condemned to the trenches Massive bombardments of the fortifications, makes the earth tremble and shake Forced to stay in underground bunkers, due to continues shelling Tormented by swollen limbs and the freezing cold in these rat infested holes

Under the banner of war, troops are amassed, for the assault
Wave after wave, meeting death, in no-mans land
Many will die, by bullets or gas, bayonet or mines
Enter the jaws, of mechanized death

Buried in a nameless grave
Under a hail of mass destruction
Buried in a nameless grave

Buried in a nameless grave
Under a hail of mass destruction
Buried in a nameless grave

Under the banner of war, troops are amassed, for the assault
Wave after wave, meeting death, in no-mans land
Many will die, by bullets or gas, bayonet or mines
Enter the jaws, of mechanized death

Under a hail of mass destruction
Buried in a nameless grave

Buried in a nameless grave
Under a hail of mass destruction
Buried in a nameless grave

Onward unto battle
Storm the enemy lines
Kill them without mercy Death is a pleasure....charge!

Orders are giving to charge, thousands will face an imminent death
As the bright light of glory fades, baptism under heavy fire Machine gun mowing down those too close, poison gas kills the rest Shrapnels tears the flesh und uniforms, and another corpse in the dirt

Tremendous killing at an industrial pace, as the fields are litered with debris Battalions wiped out by machine gun fire and heavy artillery rain There is no way out of this living hell, as you slowly driven insane Massive slaughter makes evident, the futile existence of mankind
