All I Ever Do

Sitting at home every Night thinking of you, I've been searching oh so long And I've found all I need in you, Should I dare to cross that border? Do you want to take this further? Will you turn me away? Or will you make this A special day? All I do is,

(2x)

All I ever do my boo I lay at home and Dream of you It's true I wanna know what's On your mind

See we've been working Together now for over a year, And twenty four seven three Sixty five I've been trying To get my feelings clear, Do I wanna just work With you each day? Or do I want this work To change to play? And when I decide, Will you feel the same? All I do is,

And If I find love in you Your every wish is my command And if that love I find is true Eternally I'll be your man

Coz

My every wish is to be with you My every dream is to be with you My every prayer is to be with you To be with you Be with you

All I ever
