

You Will Cry No More

Lene Marlin

Life sure has its ways
To steal its perfect days
And leave you there with tears
With anger and the fears
Yet your fight has ended now
And you will cry no more.

If we could change the past
We'd make some moments last
Those moments that were good
We'd change it if we could
To see your face again
Your smiles yes let's pretend
Yet your fight has ended now
And you will cry no more
