Lovebird

Leona Lewis

I will lay down next to you Stay in bed all afternoon We were birds of a feather We were always together And I never will forget All the little things you said And that beautiful summer You used to call me your love bird.

But the time went on The wind has blown And I have grown And I started a feeling That my wings have been broken

And I can't believe that I would ever want to be set free But I just can't stay

So your love bird's flying away Your love bird's flying away 'Cause my heart's been stuck in a cage Gotta sing my song so pretty, dum dum diddy And I'll miss you everyday 'Cause there's nothing left to say Gotta sing my song so pretty, dum dum diddy

I want the world at my feet Even if it's bittersweet I wanna stand on my own and Hold my heart in my own hands. 'Cause I've begun to see That you and me Are different breeds. So I gotta be leaving, Gotta get back to breathing

And I can't believe that I would ever want to be set free But I just can't stay

So your love bird's flying away Your love bird's flying away 'Cause my heart's been stuck in a cage Gotta sing my song so pretty, dum dum diddy And I'll miss you everyday 'Cause there's nothing left to say Gotta sing my song so pretty, dum dum diddy

And you'll always be A part of me, You made me who I am But I gotta say, I'm not afraid To test my wing span 'cause they say if you love something let it go, let it go, let it go Open up the gate, 'cause your love birds flying away

Your love bird's flying away

'Cause my heart's been stuck in a cage
Gotta sing my song so pretty, dum dum diddy
And I'll miss you everyday
'Cause there's nothing left to say
Gotta sing my song so pretty, dum dum diddy
