Leona Lewis

Sitting on the car Staring at the stars Leaning on your shoulder I wanna cry until I laugh and laugh until I cry Don't wanna let a single moment of you pass me by If only I could freeze the frame You know that I would stay right here for good I I wanna stop the clocks tonight I I wanna tear the hands right off I I wanna stop the world from turning And stay right here for good I I hope the sun forgets to rise I I won't ever leave your side I I wanna stop the clocks tonight And stay right here for good I'd rather spend my life Motionless with you Than dancing with another I wanna cry until I laugh and laugh until I cry Don't wanna let a single moment of you pass me by If only I could freeze the frame You know that I would stay right here for good I I wanna stop the clocks tonight I I wanna tear the hands right off I I wanna stop the world from turning And stay right here for good I I hope the sun forgets to rise I I won't ever leave your side I I wanna stop the clocks tonight And stay right here for good For good Stay I I wanna stop the clocks tonight I I wanna tear the hands right off I I wanna stop the world from turning And stay right here for good I I hope the sun forgets to rise I I won't ever leave your side I I wanna stop the clocks tonight And stay right here for good I I wanna stop the clocks tonight I I wanna tear the hands right off I I wanna stop the world from turning
