

Come Back

Lesley Roy

He tried calling the number I gave him
The tide covered him up, I can't save him
Heaven open, he's halfway to Hell and back

The clouds, the darkness came right before him,
The world threw him some courses and warnings
Heaven open he's halfway to Hell

Now that you sleep, you won't come back to me
Come back, come back, you've left us all alone
Secrets you kept them
Now you're lying in the stone
No you'll never come home

Your pain carried your mind somewhere else
And that day, nobody came to your help
Now I'm sorry the angels weren't there

Now that you sleep, you won't come back to me
Come back, come back, you've left us all alone
Secrets you kept them
Now you're lying in the stone
No you'll never come home

You were young, shone like the sun
We will never forget you
You passed on, it was so wrong

Come back, come back, you've left us here alone
Secrets, you kept them
Now you're lying in the stone

Come back, come back, you've left us all alone
Secrets you kept them
Now you're lying in the stone
come back, come back, you've left us all alone
Secrets you kept them
Now you're lying in the stone

Secrets, you kept them,
Now you're lying in the stone
and you'll never come
No you'll never come home
