Misfit

Lesley Roy

You never close your eyes You never sleep at night You're an emotional nightmare You are, a misfit

You like to hurt yourself And then you don't know why You're trapped inside your own hell No one else knows your name

See the misfit in the mirror See the freak that lives inside See the misfit in the mirror cry See the one nobody wanted Shattered by a world of lies See the misfit in the mirror die

You always crash your car You're like a permanent scar You're just a walking disaster You are, the opposite of moving faster

When you've been pushed around When all your walls fall down And when they call you misfit It's so hard to stop the rage

See the misfit in the mirror See the freak that lives inside See the misfit in the mirror cry See the one nobody wanted Shattered by a world of lies See the misfit in the mirror die

I see you and I see Everything that I hate Darkness all around me Makes me suffocate

See the misfit in the mirror See the freak that lives inside See the misfit in the mirror cry See the one nobody wanted Shattered by a world of lies See the misfit in the mirror die
