

Finer Points of Forgiveness

Less Than Jake

Today started out so atypical, stuck in literal loneliness
I just wanted to keep on sleeping and quit repeating old arguments

So I came up with my own conspiracy you will never see through my eyes

'Cause it's making me so frustrated my faith is fading out over time

I bet that you and I keep sounding like a broken record

I'll forgive you every time

For never stopping once or thinking twice, never taking time to realise

I'll forgive you every time

For the seconds you let pass away, will you make it up to me so meday?

Today started out so unusual, can't find usual metaphors

I just wanted to keep believing and work on feeling alright once more

So I came up with my own conspiracy, you will never be what I hope

You got all of my insides turning and now I'm learning that's how it goes

I bet that you and I keep sounding like a broken record

I'll forgive you every time

For never stopping once or thinking twice, never taking time to
realise

I'll forgive you every time

For the seconds you let pass away, will you make it up to me so meday?

I'll forgive you every time

For never stopping once or thinking twice, never taking time to
realise

I'll forgive you every time

For the seconds you let pass away, will you make it up to me so meday?

I'll forgive you every time

I'll forgive you every time

I'll forgive you every time

meday?
