

John the Baptist Bones

Less Than Jake

Somebody said it's time for me to go
No matter what's above or down below
I've always known it, feel it my chest
I've always only known the half of it

I believe all these lines and phrases
Are part of a plan that just never changes
I always bite
The hand that helps me up

Somebody told us back when we were young
Have faith in things that you will never touch
I've always thought this, maybe I'll confess
I think there's no plans, only accidents

I believe all these lines and phrases
Are part of a plan that just never changes
I always bite
The hand that helps me up
The hand that helps me up

I believe all these lines and phrases
Are part of a plan that just never changes
I'll break through all these words on pages
They make me believe I don't know what faith is
I always bite
The hand that helps me up
The hand that helps me up
