

Robots One, Humans Zero

Less Than Jake

So what have we really learned today that some things are easier when we walk away and acting normal means acting like everyone else and you're better off by not acting like yourself are we buying what they're selling do we have our eyes open life's not a fashion statement it takes more than good intentions

It's just perfect day in our perfect lives just as long as we have commercials and things to hide behind it's a life so real you only watch it on a movie screen getting so close you can almost touch it

[x2]

they never bought or sold you they can't image and mold you to chase something cause we think it's new thinking that's the best for you

[x2]

let me tell you what the score is robots 1 humans 0
