The Life of the Party Has Left the Building

Less Than Jake

The cycle circles, stalls, then spins.

Describes the current state I'm in.

It's like a nose dive then a crash,

With all my blackouts and scraped hands.

It's in the words caught in my throat.

It's in the how did I get home?

I'd like to sleep my life away.

But I'd just wake up years too late.
