It's Monday morning, checked my cell phone, but nobody's calling me, I try to ignore it, but it's sinking in that I'm, I'm all alone with me, whoa So I stare at your picture for the last time to ease my mind This time I even break down and cry I had good reason for leaving you, I was never enough for you You had me down in myself, putting me down Cause I'ma keep smiling, I'ma keep it moving Cause I don't need you, don't need you, don't need you, don't need yo I'ma keep smiling, I'ma keep it moving Cause I don't need you, don't need you, don't need you, don't need yo No more, no more, no more, no more, no more, no more And baby I stayed with you so long that I lost myself Now who would've thought that someone so independent, become so damn submissive And sometimes in the back of my mind I'd be missing you, missing you But I can get through this cause I can do better, so much better So I stare at your picture for the last time to ease my mind This time I even break down and cry I had good reason for leaving you, I was never enough for you You had me down in myself, putting me down Cause I'ma keep smiling, I'ma keep it moving Cause I don't need you, don't need you, don't need you, don't need yo I'ma keep smiling, I'ma keep it moving Cause I don't need you, don't need you, don't need you No more Cause I've been down and out too long It's time to pick my head up, baby I'm tired of being fed up, baby This heartbreak ends today I'll be moving on And I won't give up on love Cause I'ma keep smiling, I'ma keep it moving Cause I don't need you, don't need you, don't need you, don't need yo I'ma keep smiling, I'ma keep it moving Cause I don't need you, don't need you, don't need you, don't need yo

Cause I don't need you, don't need you, don't need you, don't need yo

Cause I'ma keep smiling, I'ma keep it moving
