

Legions of Invisible

Leverage

Go join the lines
The legions of invisible

People that you thought you knew
They look away trying not to see you
Gone are your glorious days of prosper
Desperately acting blind
You push the fear back in your mind
Forcing the carefree smile and laughter

You're not wanted here no more
We don't need you anymore

You're falling from sweet grace
Feel the cold wind in your face
Don't know what you had
Before you've gone to lose it all
How fast it all can change
With a destiny's embrace
Go join the lines
The legions of invisible

Victimed by the axe's fall
Just leave the key and close the door
Now your story's got a brand new drafter
Drag your feet in wind and snow
To a destination no-one knows
Slowly from here 'til everafter
