

Rider of Storm

Leverage

Trying to tell you what you can or can't do
Why should anyone know better
You know you must find your own way to go
No-one else there to pave it
Trying to please and just keep of harm's way
You won't ever make the distance
Across the storms on life's sea
If you don't lift your sails

Need no hindsight
Need no magic
Need no preachers in your way

Get your mind together
Keep it strong
Don't lost your face
Be a rider of storm
Whatever lies ahead
Just bring it on
Bold and untamed
Be a rider of storm

Keep an eye on the winds of luck turning
One day they'll be blowing your way
Knocked down, don't turn the other cheek
Find a way to get even

They try to keep you down every way they can Give 'em hell until they push you no more
Go ride the storm
