Receive The World

Leviathan

Talons clutch high cheekbones Phallus invades now swollen throat A thorn reaches to fertilize the withered egg Peril barbed and resistant Emerging from tremendous heat Primeval atom born of great fulmination Gravitationally attracted to the forming matter

The inflation of the cosmos

Receive the world

Larva formed in glorious negativity Another form readying the destroyer

The hideous is finally set forth

Face upturned towards the pillar that suspends Him The brood of invisible ones shall never be named Form without limbs readying the time end The becoming of awe Away from human frame

Form without limbs Mouth beckoning the end of man The unspeakable instrument will move through them

Reach within to see this free And set fire onto me

And then the division Division of most grotesque cells
