Sometimes It Hurts

Lhasa

You're waisting your time Coming round here What got you to thinking There was something new going on

You're waisting your time Coming round here What got you to thinking I had a different song

Been lying awake all night Trying to figure out It's that old song Keeps running around in my head

You're waisting your time Coming round here

But what's good for me
Is not necessarely for the best
So play it for me

Sometimes it works
Sometimes it don't you know
Some days it hurts
Some days it feels real good

Sometimes it hurts Sometimes it don't you know Some days it works so good I can't see my way home

Been climbing these old walls Why don't they screamin What a cheat you are (oh i'm not you're mean) Cos nothing else comes near me You got this trick on the world

Me have the sharpest chisel The keenest eye It's just that old song I only got the one

So play it for me

Sometimes it works
Sometimes it don't you know
Some days it hurts
Some days it feels real good

Sometimes it hurts
Sometimes it don't you know
Some days it works so good
I can't see my way home

I may have unscrewed the top

Just to hear that sound
I may poor little
Just to see the light shining thru

A little sip, but no more Hey, you belong to me now Don't you wander too far

So play it for me And i'll play it for you So play it for me And i'll play it for you

Sometimes it works
Sometimes it don't you know
Some days it hurts
Some days it feels real good

Sometimes it hurts
Sometimes it don't you know
Some days it works so good

I'm waisting my time
Coming round here
What once burned so brightly
Is all but smoke in the air

You're waisting your time Coming around here What got you to thinking I had a different song
