

The Force Of Love

Lia

All alone, somewhere far away from home
In a lonely place, where no one knows your name
Lost inside a corner of your mind
Looking for a place to hide and none to find

Back in the days when you were just a child
The sun rises and dances eternally
And when you least expect it
You hear a voice inside
Telling you to begin the life of your dream

You have the power to believe
Take a look inside your heart
A road is waiting for you

The truth is written in the stars
No matter who you are
You feel the force of love

Like a wind, blowing high above the clouds
You were moving fast but couldn't touch the ground
Think of that day when you were just a child
You felt a joy so tenderly
And if you stop to listen to what you feel inside
You can be everything you wanted to be

You have the power to achieve
If you reach inside your heart
Your wish is waiting for you

The truth is written in the stars
No matter where you are
You feel the force of love

All the pain, and tears
And broken dreams
Flowing like a river
It's never easy to see
Trust to what you feel
And just keep your spirit free
You can be all the things
You wanted to be in your dreams

You have the power to believe
Make a promise in your heart
The future is waiting for you

The secret is in the sky above
Like a shooting star
You feel the force of love

It's written in the stars
