

Blind In Retrospect

Life In Your Way

Has the world found your weakness
The desire to conquer your will?
All things will fade away
What has this life been guided by?
A question for us all
What is the motivation behind?
A question for us all
Can we find the ability to stand, hold our own when Things all come down?
My guard must not fall because the deception of the one
Who drives this will break us down
But if we fall I hope we will be shown mercy, grace to Endure
Is this time well spent? Can I now see change?
Don't be swept away.
Strong is the man who endures
Strengthen the feeble hands, steady the knees that give Way
This life is a gift
Take this opportunity to look back but don't think
Tomorrow is a definite or will bring change
Work hard for your passion
Has the world found your weakness,
The desire to conquer your will?
All things will fade away