

Making Waves

Life In Your Way

I will never sleep again the way that I have now
I will never close my eyes
It has taken me this long to get this far
It has taken me so long to get this far
Now I'm breaking through,
Making waves and smashing against the shoreline
Breaking through, making waves and smashing against the shoreline
Now I'm staying on track this time
Forward motion is good
Free from guilt, over it all
This is my commitment
I'll live and let redemption see me through
What a world wants to hold me down
I'm standing firm
It feels so good....
