You are beautiful amazing Our friendship is ever growing A never ending journey I hold you in the highest a place that no other will touch These days we've been back and forth so it's all or nothing now This is our story our testimony and strength to push forward May we constantly see with eyes of pure thought You have been a part of who I am It will never be forgotten Us together us forever This bond will not be broken