

The most comfortable place isn't comfortable anymore
I feel so out of place
No one knows me for sure
I have this guilty conscience
And made an effort not to be me
I feel like a certain somebody
But I know I can be me
Too many people try to put me down
Not accept me for me
I was insulted the other night
..... it's not me
I try to sing my songs
But I have trouble with that too
The hardest thing to imagine
Is what comes next
Don't have strength don't have courage
When you're lacking confidence
I won't let this feeling end
'cause it might not come again
... and you know it's not you
I try to sing my songs
But I have trouble with that too
The most comfortable place isn't comfortable
Did you ever feel out of place?
'cause you're not comfortable?
I won't let this feeling end
'cause it might not come again
