

Fears

Life of Agony

No one knows what it's like
No one knows how it feels
Nothing else could compare to the fears I fear
And I've never been on my own
Struggling all alone
And all I have are these clothes on my back and this song
I never had much I never believe I could be Someone, somehow, somebody
Said goodbye to all my childhood hopes and dreams
Time to grow up and accept real life responsibilities
Listen
Won't you listen to the things I have to say
'cause it just might affect the way that you think about
How you live from day to day
It may be easy for you
But it seems like hell to me
