Take me to a place where I know I belong
Take away my anger and replace my hate with love
Find my reason hiding behind my second skin
Find what is pushing me it starts deep within
Take apart my insides go over all that is wrong
Take out what is bad but leave enough to remain strong

I won't stop I will not until the day through these eyes
I despise so much hate don't tell me "give it up"
Walk away push myself to the edge
Help me find what is inside
Why am I alive?
