Steady paranoid eyes and gray skies, looking at the people in my life Trying to read my mind, cause this world ain't treating me right Barely sleeping at night, with so much stress and drama on my brain Cause busting bitch ass niggaz, want me out of the game Now ain't that a shame, can't be real with niggaz niggaz ain't real Can't put my trust in none of em, cause these niggaz'll steal And if I show 'em they stealing, they'd think a nigga tripping But yet still they plot to catch a nigga slipping, pistol gripping When my pockets itching, to stack money Never thought my baby mama, would bitch and act funny Walking round fat tummy, talking bout she pregnant for me Then turn around, and say it's for a nigga named Deep But I ain't tripping cause I got what I wanted, and let a head in some pussy Always knew I was gone make it, so she's scared to overlook me Therefor, I hope that nigga that you with walking by your side But don't be looking all sad, bitch smile
