

Because Of You

Lila McCann

Thought I could define it
One look in your eyes went and proved me wrong
I find myself speechless
This feeling of completeness is so strong

And I was convinced that my heart had reached its limit
Until you created this new place in it

Your touch wraps around me
In love it knows no boundaries now
There's nothing I wouldn't do for you
You're the answer I've been needing
Life has a whole new meaning now
All because of you

Everything's different
There's no frame of reference for the way I feel
Oh to look at your face
I'm still amazed

I could lie here for hours just watching you sleep
Hanging on every breath that you breathe

Your touch wraps around me
In love it knows no boundaries now
There's nothing I wouldn't do for you
You're the answer I've been needing
Life has a whole new meaning now
All because of you

Your touch wraps around me
In love it knows no boundaries now
There's nothing I wouldn't do for you
You're the answer I've been needing
Life has a whole new meaning now
All because of you, all because of you
