Where It Used To Break

How it happened I haven't a clue I just woke up one mornin' And was over you No hallelujah chorus Nothin' written in the stars Just a peaceful feelin' Settled on my heart

Oh no, there ain't no easy way No deed that you can do No magic prayer that you can pray Oh yeah, time is what it takes To make a heart start bending Where it used to break

It was wishful thinkin' Thinkin' I'd be all right With a pep talk from my sister And a couple good cries It only got better When I got it through my head Ain't no gettin' 'round a heartache Got to roll with it instead

Oh no, there ain't no easy way No deed that you can do No magic prayer that you can pray Oh yeah, time is what it takes To make a heart start bending Where it used to break

Little by little One tear at a time It felt like I was dying But I made it out alive

Oh no, there ain't no easy way No deed that you can do No magic prayer that you can pray Oh yeah, time is what it takes To make a heart start bending Where it used to break
