The Day I Met You

Lillian Axe

Do you remember, when our lives were so complete ?
Long cold Decembers, so bitter sweet

But if you could set aside one day
That I could hold forever
I would save the day that I met you

Is it still magic although we've grown worlds apart
It seem so tragic, so frail the heart

But if I was blessed with just one wish
To take me through my lonely life
I'd wish to go back to the day that I met you

And when you fell you're on your own
Well just believe you're not alone
And you fell the warmth
That we shared years ago
Don't be blue

One painful morning, I stared straight into the sun
It overwhelmed me, I came undone

So, if you can find it in your heart
To be forgiving to a broken man
We'll go back to the day that I met you
