

The Needle And Your Pain

Lillian Axe

Feel like I'm loosin' again
Slipping away is the faith I used to cling to Life seems too strange to be real
Watching you take it all in stride
Just for you
I'd take the needle and your pain
Away from you
One for you

Time has no mind for regret
Watching you bite on the bullet you were born with
How do you sit there at ease
While something inside steals your peace
Just for you
I'd take the needle and your pain
Away from you
I'd give you shelter from the rain
Just for you
One for you

No one can convince me that there's method to this madness
As I watch you fade
The hours tick away
With the courage of a lion
And the stead-fast heart of gold
You gave me strength while the flames of my hope
Burn so cold
Feeling the heat once again
Handed us hope as you rose up from the ashes
Gone is the pain so be free
Now in your name we can see

Just for you
I'd take the needle and your pain
Away from you
I'd give you shelter from the rain
Just for you
I'd take the needle and your pain
Away from you
I'd give you shelter from the rain
Just for you
One for you
