

The silver screen couldn't hold all that you had
You made such beautiful messes
But now it's time to go to bed
Heaven's got one more angel
One more nightmares come to rest
I guess it is for the best

But I wish you had known
This town couldn't save you
Oh I had hoped
My love would have made you
Better, better
Oh you're free now
Time will take its toll
On what you owe

Gossip's gospel in this little world
You taste the beautiful girls
You come down hard and go to bed
The visions simmer
In your head
In your head

Close your eyes
With tomorrow you will fly

But I wish you had known
This town couldn't save you
Oh I had hoped
My love would have made you
Better, better
Oh you're free now
Time will take its toll
On what you owe

Better
Do you feel better?

But I wish you had known
This town couldn't save you
Oh I had hoped
My love would have made you
Better, better
Oh you're free now
Time will take its toll
On what you owe
