

A Black Sphere Of Serenity

Limbonic Art

As we expire from the face of earth and leave the flesh behind to decay Will there be a delight rebirth or will darkness lead the soul astray
In the moment that you die, your whole life is passing by Only then you will see how your afterlife will be Catch a glimpse of the death light, on the journey towards the other side As you drift through eternal haze, dismal domain of the space
An arrival into a void so dark and so cold, a realm of nothingness
In utter darkness you are damned, seduced by a kiss of death Incarcerated in a deep consciousness where time has ceased Lifeless dreaming in an infinite gloomy display, a black sphere of serenity Entering the darkest lair, an empty frozen atmosphere of demise Isolation in desolation, obscure spectral dimension beyond the mind's eye Journey into death's euphoria Beyond the great dark adventure A world unseed so mysterious supreme Timeless and ageless, no end no beginning Soundless utter emptiness, dormant suffering Death's icy grip holds all life in its grasp
There is nothing there except your fear
