

Decision

Limp

It's my decision
can't take it away
I'll have it my way I'll make my own mistakes why don't you listen your mind is your voice your heart is your choice it's pretty hard to ignore

And you do
totally blind
and you choose recklessly
I approve of nothing I've ever seen you try to do

Your indecision
has taken its toll
and you're on a roll in actuality fucked up condition
state of your life
summed up in a lie
it's pretty hard to ignore

and you choose
recklessly
I approve
try to do
make up your mind

Black or white
right or wrong
make up your mind
stay or go
I don't know
It's about time

By now your vision
is to be desired
and I'm uninspired with what's in front of me it's our condition to stand by your word to listen and learn while leaving nothing ignored

and you choose
recklessly
I approve
