

Stable

Limp

Stable cause he had a good job
Quiet, wasn't fond of small talk was the kind of guy who'd eat his lunch alone on the weekends he would always be at home Doing god knows what if god had only known
Mail order and he ordered one to go

Bringing death and destruction to an office downtown
Killing 23 people at a half past noon
Said he was sorry as if it would help
And the spotlight's in his face
Gonna notice him now

Stable cause she had a good job labeled all american mom
Bright and early Monday morning on her way
Gotta work got to get some money saved
Sipping coffee, sorting boxes, and her fate
Package opened reading ''have a nice day''

Bringing death and destruction to an office downtown
Killing 23 people at a half past noon
And now there's a rock with her name on a plaque
In the middle of a dark
Gonna notice her now

There is this old familiar sound
Don't know exactly what it is but it's a part of me
And now it's getting very loud
I hear, I hear, the voices in my head