

He's In Dallas

Linda Davis

He said, "I'll make your dreams come true in Texas?
And he captured my Appalachian heart
I was so naive that I believed him
When he promised we'd never be apart

So we packed and pulled a U-Haul down to Dallas
A year went by and the baby came along
Then his old friends and the night life came between us
Dreams turned into sleepless nights of waiting all alone

I'm staring out the window through these teardrops
Holding on to the only dream that turned out right
We're on a Greyhound bound for West Virginia
He's in Dallas without us tonight

Oh Lord, I hate to break the news to mama
She's gettin' on in years and worries so
Maybe I should've stayed in Dallas
And given him another chance
Right now, I just don't know

I'm staring out the window through these teardrops
Holding on to the only dream that turned out right
We're on a Greyhound bound for West Virginia
He's in Dallas without us tonight

He said. ?I'll make your dreams come true in Texas?
He lives in Dallas without us tonight
