

It's Time

Linda Eder

It's time to hold my hand, and take a chance
It's time to pay the band, and start the dance
We hear the melody, we know the song
It's time I think, we're on the brink
Of waiting far too long

Why not believe our eyes, and cross our hearts?
Dispense with alibis, enough false starts
It's time to put away our childish things
And time to trust in us, and what tomorrow brings

It's time to risk it all, and shoot the moon
So just let go and fall it's not too soon
Before the clock strikes one more chime
Let's see if we can move love off this dime
'Cause when we kiss we both can see, it's time

It's getting too late for a lengthy debate
So let's go for the win
Let's give forever a shove so that love can begin

It's time to let it ride cause time won't wait
If luck is on our side, it's not too late
Before we stumble past our prime
I know together we can make this climb
'Cause I believe for you and me, it's time
